GLENDALE MAN INTIMATELY ASSOCIATED WITH EVAN- GELIST MANY YEARS

(By Samuel Parker.)

Unless it be the president or his secretary of state it is doubtful if there is any other more completely in the public eye at the present time for discussion and criticism pro and con than the humble evangelist whose name stands above, and while it seems both common and easy to call him "Billy," which would be a name of reproach or endearment, depending on who used it, something of respect is due to position held above the cheapness of commonality, and while "Billy" goes at the ball park and also with his intimate friends and confidential associates in evangelistic work, it is not a proper title to appear in print in connection with the name of one in good standing as a minister in the Presbyterian church.

Wild and exaggerated statements are easily made and too frequently made about this evangelist, not all truth when they start, but grow as they go, taking on "coloring" in amount and quality depending on the skill of the relator. Removed from the extravagant glamor of these strained reportorial effects, the evangelist becomes an ordinary mortal, and as such it will be my purpose to treat him in this "o'er true tale."

And of my right to speak on this subject, let what I say in this paragraph suffice. For 25 years of my life in Chicago I was living on "Sunday" ground. On corner of same block with me lived Mr. Thompson, whose daughter became Mrs. Sunday, and after marriage their home was established just around the corner from me in same block. As young Sundays came along in time they came to me for the usual romp and child play. The oldest, Helen, now married, was one of a fine class graduated by me from the famous "Skinner school" grammar class and this was their family home until the children were grown when the evangelist took them with him to fields of effort, his wife and some of the children helping the father in some features of the work. Mr. Sunday was a voter in my precinct and registered as a Republican and only balked when a candidate was unopposed on the prohibition question. The death of Mrs. Sunday's father some ten years ago called the evangelist in from a meeting in progress to preach the funeral, on which occasion I was present. Since that time they have been summering at "Winona lake," Indiana, where they have an elegant cottage, but it is true to say that his home is where he is at work, and at the same time his family is with him unless at school.

Mr. Sunday's opponents are composed of two classes, ministerial and worldly. The ministers call him rough, uncouth, full of slang and sport phrases, forgetting that the tendency of modern oratory is surcharged with slang, while our colleges and universities use it or apologize for its use. While modern ministers never mention hell to ears polite, Mr. Sunday is not made that way. It is notable of late that a change has come to the ministers in their treatment of Mr. Sunday and his methods. While they may not approve they passively endure and forbear uncharitable criticism.

The other class, "worldly," who like the same class before the work of another reformer a long time ago ("Please depart out of our coasts") are afraid of a disturbance of business and social relations, and these are active in all sorts of devices to keep him from getting in. Hence the ridiculous antics of sundry editors in garbling and mixing up certain sayings of Mr. Sunday as coarse and unfit to be uttered in the presence of our refined society, when back of this lies the fact that they are afraid he will come, run out the saloons, red lights, and make the town clean. Very ridiculous are the antics of some Sunday critics. I have before me a paper printed in an Illinois town in which the editor "out Herods Herod" in coarseness trying to show how low, vulgar and coarse Sunday is and further on in same article accuses Sunday of stealing many of his sermons bodily from the classical orator and scholar, Robert G. Ingersoll.

His "piling up the money" is mostly complained of by those who from their present attitude would never contribute a cent in a thousand years. He takes only what the people give him and it is positively his own, and while one-tenth goes into the Lord's treasury his gifts and donations are not paraded in the newspapers.

There is no patent on his methods. You can use them if you desire, but perhaps it is best as it is. "You in

SCHOOL BUSINESS

TRUSTEE-ELECT L. E. BROCK- MAN TAKES OATH AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING

The trustees of the city schools met Thursday evening, with A. B. Heacock, president; John Todd, clerk, and Dr. Echles present.

Minutes of the previous meeting read and approved.

L. E. Brockman, trustee-elect, was present and took the oath of office and signed up the necessary papers to be forwarded to the county superintendent. Mr. Brockman will succeed Mr. Heacock as trustee May 1st.

Mr. C. K. Robertshaw was present and presented an itemized statement for extra work done on the tower at the intermediate school. The board allowed $85 for same.

The old claim of Anderson & Murdock was taken up for settlement, the board agreed to allow them $24.80, the balance of their claim being included in their original contract.

The matter of employers' insurance was again taken up. The state's rate runs from 11c to 36c for teachers and $1.50 for janitors on each $100 of annual salary. Trustee Echles reported that he could obtain a much cheaper rate from the Pacific Casualty Co., but as the board had been instructed by the county superintendent that such insurance must be offered to the state first, Trustee Echles was instructed to see Mr. Keppel, county superintendent, and find out if such was the case.

The clerk was authorized to look after the paying of the taxes on the recently acquired real estate.

A communication from J. N. McGillis was received asking for the use of the auditorium of the intermediate school for a prohibition meeting Thursday evening, April 16th.

The request was granted.

The trustees and their wives and also the incoming trustee and his wife were invited by the domestic science department of the intermediate school to a 7 o'clock dinner on the evening of April 27, the entire menu to be prepared and served by the pupils of that department in the domestic science room. It is needless to say that the invitation was accepted.

Expiring insurance on buildings was ordered as follows: $25,000 on Columbus avenue school to be placed with J. W. Pearson; $500 on intermediate school to be placed with R. A. Blackburn.

The following bids were received for the installation of a furnace in the Central avenue school: Blue & Jay, $590; Glendale Novelty Works, $415; C. E. McPeck, $190 for furnace and $120 for oil burner and pipe line. All bids were made on a No. 52 Thatcher furnace and a Johnson burner. The contract was awarded to Mr. McPeck, he being the lowest and best bidder.

In addition to the regular monthly payroll the following claims were allowed and warrants ordered drawn for same.

your little corner and I in mine." I could not; there is but one Sunday. God honors his work and that settles it. With the record of the Philadelphia meetings before us on top of his splendid work elsewhere this one prayer should rise from every Christian heart, "God bless Brother Sunday."

Mr. Sunday at home on our streets would only impress you as a common citizen of the average American type, but Sunday in action is another man as he strides across the stage, every muscle tense, while from his mouth rolls in tumbling profusion profound Bible doctrine, terrors of the law, melting pathos, keen invective, matchless humor and sharp sarcasm. There is but one Evangelist Sunday.

MISLEADING STATEMENTS

BOARD OF TRUSTEES AND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COMMITTEE MAKE STATEMENTS ANSWERING ARGUMENTS AGAINST THE ANNEXATION OF CASA VERDUGO IN THE INTEREST OF JUSTICE TO ALL

A circular entitled "Reasons for voting no on Annexation," issued by E. J. Young and others is so full of erroneous statements reflecting on the integrity of our citizenship that we cannot allow the matter to go unchallenged.

1. Glendale has not nearly reached her full legal limit of bonded indebtedness, as any one can discover by the public records. The city has used only 60% of its bonding capacity, mostly for the purchase of public utilities that are self supporting.

2. The present election in Casa Verdugo does not obligate the citizens of Casa Verdugo to pay one penny of the present bonded indebtedness of Glendale. The law fully protects annexed territory in this respect.

3. Referring to the territory known as West Glendale the circular states that the city has furnished that territory only two (2) fire plugs. As a matter of fact, thirty-eight (38) fire plugs have already been installed. What legitimate excuse can be given for such a false statement as this one?

4. The circular states "Glendale has never kept any promise she ever made to any territory she has annexed."

One specific case will settle this point with all who seek the truth. Immediately after West Glendale was annexed a general bond issue was voted creating a lien on the entire city for $40,000, the major portion of which sum was immediately used to install an electric light system in West Glendale.

5. Mr. Cameron Thom, manager of the extensive Thom interests in Glendale, states positively that he has never made any such statements as are set forth in the circular and is not in sympathy with the sentiments expressed therein.

The intimation that Judge Ross was influenced to permit his ranch to be taken into the city of Glendale by any promises whatsoever made to him by city officials is refuted by the following telegram received from Judge Ross at the time:

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 17, 1912.

John Robert White Jr., President Board of Trustees, Glendale City, care Cala. Furn. Co., Los Angeles.

I regard it essential that the limits of Glendale be sufficiently extended to enable the city to protect the source of water supply against pollution, and consider it right that such portion of all ranches as is necessary for that purpose be annexed to the city. If it is found necessary to include my entire ranch in order to carry any election to secure such protection of our water I am willing that it be included as I consider such protection to be paramount to any individual's interests.

ERSKINE M. ROSS.

6. The statement that annexation means a doubling of taxes to the annexed territory is without foundation. Two-thirds of the increase of taxes in Glendale last year was the result of enlarged state and county taxes. Four-fifths of the cities of Southern California have larger city taxes than Glendale had the past year.

7. The statement that "annexation means taxation without representation" is a fair sample of the mis-statements in the circular. The vote of a citizen in the annexed territory counts exactly the same as the vote of any other citizen.

8. Glendale now has more complete police protection than is usually afforded by cities of similar size. By calling headquarters, officers may be summoned to any part of the city by any citizen, either night or day.

Fire protection is also being rapidly extended to all parts of the city. In addition to the 38 fire plugs already installed in West Glendale, material is now on hand for the installation of all necessary fire plugs in the territory north of the wash and this protection is now being installed. The taking over of the water system enabled the city to proceed with these needed improvements.

9. The annexation of Casa Verdugo will have absolutely no bearing on the improvement of the main thoroughfares in Casa Verdugo. The county has committed itself to these improvements, and contracts have been let. The county, however, never expends money on any but main highways. There are miles upon miles of streets in Casa Verdugo that can never be classed as main highways. These will have to be improved by direct assessments, whether annexation carries or not.

There is no law prohibiting ugly reports about any city administration. It is up to the intelligent citizen to weigh such evidence from his own judgment, and assert himself at the polls. The executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce spent some weeks of inquiry and investigation about the present city administration of Glendale. Their report is public property. The members of this committee are large taxpayers. They had no axe to grind nor grievance to avenge. This report exonerated the city council from any graft, dishonesty or gross mismanagement.

We make these statements in the interest of fair play and justice to all parties concerned.

A FORD MIXUP

Today at about 1:30 o'clock on Isabel street just east of the sanitarium there was a mixup between two Ford automobiles. One machine was driven by Ralph L. Hinkley of the Glendale Hardware company, the other machine was driven by W. H. Chambers of Eagle Rock. Mr. Hinkley had just turned out from the rear of his warehouse and was in the act of driving north when Mr. Chambers drove out from the Isabel entrance to the sanitarium and turned south. The machines came to a standstill at the curb on the east side of the street. The Chambers car was badly damaged, and the Hinkley car was only slightly damaged. Onlookers say Mr. Chambers lost control of his car.

The person who knocks all churches is worst watching—the individual who does not recognize the validity of the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule is not safe to trust.

GLENDALE RANKS HIGH

Hugh J. Baldwin, for the past sixteen years superintendent of schools of San Diego, was in our city yesterday interviewing the high school board. The marvelous development of the high school educational facilities astonished Prof. Baldwin and caused him to say, "The most critical parent need not hesitate to live in Glendale, for the educational opportunities here elicit the highest commendation." Prof. Baldwin states that the wealth of Southern California's educational system will be shown in the Palace of Education of the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco through the motion picture film and since Glendale High school has a right to space and time in this line he suggests that the school board and business men look into the advisability of furnishing a part of the film which will show Glendale's splendid rank in education.

Have you learned how to make friends and keep them?

NOTABLE DIVINES

WELL-KNOWN PASTORS OF LOS ANGELES CHURCHES TO GIVE LECTURES

(By Rev. John H. Troy.)

The Brown and Curry publicity committee is proud to announce the array of notable divines engaged to speak at the High School auditorium for five Monday evenings commencing April 19th. It has required considerable adjusting to make the final arrangements, but it can now be positively announced in all of the churches of Tropic, Glendale and Casa Verdugo that Rev. J. A. Francis, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church of Los Angeles, will address the combined churches and friends on the evening of Monday, April 19, subject, "The Christian Doctrine of the Holy Spirit."

Rev. Francis is becoming well known on the coast, coming as he does from one of the famous Baptist churches of the world, Clarendon street, of Boston, to the First Baptist church of Los Angeles. His services are in constant demand and the people of this community are fortunate to secure his valuable services. A great treat is in store for all who secure a seat Monday night, April 19, at the High school. The lecture is free to all and it is advised that Bible students bring along notebook and pencil.

Next in order Dr. John Balcom Shaw is announced for Monday, April 26, subject, "Star of the East," a lecture on the inspiration of the Scriptures. For the remaining three lectures Doctors Fox, Torrey and Hughes are announced for consecutive Mondays with addresses on "Faith," "Prayer" and the "Church," themes to be stated in full as the several lectures draw near.

The time for commencing is 7:45 and it is requested that all who have copies of the Brown and Curry song book bring them along.

It is now several weeks since the close of the historical Brown and Curry tabernacle meetings and on every hand is heard the note of praise for the permanent value of San Fernando valley's greatest revival. Every church faces the future greatly increased in membership and with the happy responsibility of caring for new born babes in Christ. The memory of Brown and Curry will abide in our community as the brightest chapter in the history of the cities of the encircling hills, as fragrance of holy incense, an experience which grows "sweeter as the years go by."

Next Sunday at Pasadena the famous evangelists commence a meeting in which some thirty churches co-operate. There is good business for the first jitney line from Glendale to Pasadena direct to Brown and Curry tabernacle. This hint ought to entitle the preachers to free transportation. Big excursions are in the air. And don't forget the five big lectures by five big preachers on five Monday evenings commencing April 19th.

ART SECTION DAY

Tuesday, April 13th, will be art section day before the Tuesday Afternoon club. Mrs. Theodore Walker, district chairman of art, will give a lecture on the "Color Scheme and Art of the Panama-Pacific Exposition." Mrs. Frank Arnold will sing. Miss Susene Wessells, late of London, will play on the violin and both of these ladies will be accompanied by Mrs. John Barrows. Mrs. R. E. Chase has charge of the program and Mrs. McElroy is chairman of the refreshment committee, assisted by Mrs. Grosvenor and Mrs. Brant. Mrs. Hearnshaw will have an exhibit of water colors and china painting in the reception room of the Masonic hall.

LIVING PICTURES

A large and enthusiastic audience enjoyed the beautiful living pictures portraying the "Women of the Bible," given under the capable direction of Mrs. Wayland Brown by the literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon club on Thursday evening at the High School auditorium.

The committee in charge feel very grateful to the many talented women who assisted, especially Mrs. William Herman West and Mrs. Frank Arnold, soloists, and Miss Gertrude chaplain, accompanist; to Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan for her "Deborah" and to Mrs. Mary Cable, who, though not a member of the club, graciously gave her time and talent. Her "Hagar" was thoroughly enjoyed.

So from Eve's girlish loveliness to Mary's exquisite beauty, it lost nothing by being repeated for the third time and will add a substantial sum to the club house fund.

TROPICO NEWS ITEMS

TROPICO ATTORNEY RECEIVES AUTOGRAPHED WORKS FROM AUTHOR FRIEND

Collie E. Kenney, an attorney of Indianapolis, Ind., who has been residing in Tropic for the past year, has just been presented a handsomely bound set of the writings of Morcan Robertson, which the author, who was a warm friend of Mr. Kenney, had autographed and sent to his attorney friend. A pathetic feature in connection with the splendid gift is that at the time of the arrival of the books, Mr. Kenney was reading the Associated Press dispatch of the sudden passing away of his author friend. Mr. Robertson was found lifeless in a standing position at his desk in Atlantic City, New Jersey. Among some of the books Mr. Robertson sent Mr. Kenney are "Salvage," published first in the Century magazine; "Where Angels Fear to Tread," Atlantic Monthly; "The Brain of the Battleships," The Wigwag Magazine; "Between the Millstones," and "The Battle of the Monsters," Saturday Evening Post; "The Trade Wind," Collier's weekly; "From the Royal Yard Down," Ainslee magazine; "Needs Must When the Devil Drives" and "When Greek Meets Greek," McClure's Syndicate, and "Premordial," Harper's Monthly. These and many more Mr. Robertson has had published in book form.

Miss Joyce Dominy and Miss Helen Swenson will entertain a coterie of their young friends at the home of Miss Dominy, 111 East Seventh street, this evening.

Mrs. Emily Stewart of Steubenville, Iowa, visited her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Ayres and Mr. N. C. Burch, yesterday.

Mrs. Frank I. Marsh and Mrs. Samuel A. Ayres were the guests at luncheon Wednesday of Mrs. J. G. Chapman at her home in Los Angeles.

Olaf Andressen, who with Mrs. Andressen, has been visiting relatives and friends in Tropic for several weeks, has returned to Elgin, Ills. Mrs. Andressen will remain here as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. John Hobbs, for several weeks longer before returning to her home in Illinois.

Mrs. George Peck of West Tenth street and Mrs. William Dutton of West Tropic avenue were the guests at luncheon of Mrs. Margaret Jenkins of North Glendale avenue.

The auxiliary of the Florence Crittenton home of Los Angeles will entertain the officers and members and friends of N. P. Banks W. R. C. at the beautiful new home, Avenue 33 and Griffin avenue, Wednesday, April 21. The ladies will be the guests of the auxiliary at a luncheon. A program will be rendered in the afternoon, following the inspection of the new home. Those who are not members of the corps and who desire to enjoy the all-day meeting of the auxiliary as their guests will please notify Miss Cora Hickman, who is secretary and treasurer of the auxiliary as well as one of the board of managers of the home. Telephone 78W.

CRANE-BRIDGE

A quiet home wedding was solemnized on Thursday evening, April 8th, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Marvin L. Foess, 474 Serrano avenue, Los Angeles, at 7 o'clock, when Miss Margaret Bridge of Los Angeles became the bride of Clair J. Crane of Glendale. Rev. F. A. Field officiated. Mrs. M. L. Foess acted as bridesmaid and Mr. M. L. Foess as groomsmen. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served, only relatives being present. After May 1 Mr. and Mrs. Crane will be at home to friends at Altadena, where the groom has a cozy bungalow furnished and ready for his bride. Mr. Crane is well known in Glendale where he has lived for the past two years, and his many friends wish them happiness and success.

After the wedding ceremony of Mr. and Mrs. Crane Mrs. Crane's little niece, Velva Jay Foess, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin L. Foess, was baptized, Rev. F. A. Field performing the ceremony.

TALENTED SOPRANO TO SING

Miss Rachel Smith, a talented lyric soprano, will appear as soloist with the Robbinette club Tuesday evening. Miss Smith was chosen as soloist with the band at Redondo, and made a fine impression in "Ave Maria" and "Chanson-Provençal" by Dell Atna. The latter song will be sung here and is sure to be received with much enthusiasm.

BARACAS ENTERTAIN

There was a jolly gathering in the parlors of the First Methodist church Thursday evening, when the Methodist Baracas entertained the Presbyterian Baracas.

This was the regular business meeting of the class and officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Dr. C. R. Lusby, president; H. E. Francy, vice president; F. J. Matthiesen, secretary; R. C. Proctor, treasurer; M. C. Francy, sergeant at arms; Robert Antibus, press agent.

After election various stunts were participated in between members of the two classes. There were sack races, potato races, peanut races, pie-eating contests, athletic stunts and several boxing matches, all of which tended to promote good feeling and merriment.

Following the games of the evening refreshments were served and the guests of the evening felt they had been well entertained.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Emma Armstrong, who bought A. A. Ward's place at 1716 Vine street, moves in today.

Mr. G. L. Keller, a stockman from near New Virginia, Iowa, who has been visiting his son, Mr. A. V. Downs of 720 Belmont street, left yesterday for his home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Robert White of 101 Orange street gave a little informal evening for a few friends Thursday night. Cards were played and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Walter Stamps of 1306 Lomita avenue, with Mrs. C. W. McFadden of 1446 Hawthorne street, and their children, spent four days last week at Seal Beach, returning to Glendale Sunday evening.

The many friends of Mrs. Herman Paine of 109 S. Maryland avenue, who has been so ill for several weeks, will be glad to learn that she is now able to be about the house and is steadily regaining her strength.

Mrs. E. C. Frank of Eagle Rock road with her daughter, Miss Alice Frank, were guests today at the elaborate reception given by Mrs. Britt of Los Angeles in honor of Miss Britt, who has just returned from a winter in Europe.

H. W. James of 1555 Penn street moves today to Redondo, where he takes a "jigger run" for the P. E. Hughie suffered a broken leg while at work as motorman three months ago and has just recovered sufficiently to get to work.

Mrs. Seeley Blatchley was called to Jackson, Mich., last fall by the death of a sister, soon followed by the death of her mother, and with the settling up of business has just been able to return to her home at 228 Central avenue, very happy to see Glendale once more.

Mrs. Leroy Harrod of 124 North Louise street entertained at luncheon today for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hurd, who are visiting here, and for Mr. and Mrs. Mayer of Kenosha, Wisconsin, who are stopping in Los Angeles, having spent the winter in Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bates of Goldfield, Nevada, arrived last night to spend a few days with Dr. and Mrs. I. H. Durfee of 508 Brand boulevard. Dr. and Mrs. Durfee, with their guests, expect to go to San Diego tomorrow to visit the fair, returning again to Glendale after a day or two.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hurd of Kenosha, Wisconsin, with their grandson, Mr. Charles Head of 124 N. Louise street, will leave for San Diego Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Hurd to visit the exposition and Mr. Head to return to his studies at the Military academy, after spending the Easter vacation in Glendale.

WHITTON'S

Glendale's Confection Center,
411 Brand Blvd. Glendale.

Mrs. Haas of Vernon avenue, Hollywood, entertained the ladies of the ladies' auxiliary of the Palestine Chapter Order of the Eastern Star all day Thursday. Mrs. C. F. Parker of Glendale was an invited guest of the auxiliary. Luncheon was served at noon and the afternoon spent in sewing for the needy.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. C. Moore of 116 W. Fifth street with their granddaughter, Miss Clara Page, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Ritchey of Second street, took a motor trip of more than a hundred miles yesterday. They left here in the morning, going direct to Fontana, where Mr. Moore had business to attend to, and returned via Ontario and Spadra. It was a delightful day for the long drive and was enjoyed by all.

Alaska, a few years ago a virtually uninhabited wilderness, is being settled up rapidly and, with the construction of the proposed government railroad, will become almost as much modernized as the old settled communities of the United States. One of the best bargains Uncle Sam ever made was the purchase of this immense region for a sum trifling compared with the intrinsic value of that immense treasure land.

NORTH GLENDAL E

One of the prettiest social affairs of the season was given by Mrs. J. W. Cousins of 1501 Lorraine street Thursday afternoon when she entertained complimentary to Miss Corrine Budway, a bride-elect, who in the near future will wed Mr. Everett Whitmore.

The affair was a miscellaneous shower and the beautiful floral decorations were carried out to suggest the important feature of the occasion. The various rooms were festooned with gay streamers of Nile green, lavender, pink and white tulle beautifully blended, and with curtains drawn the softened glow of the electric lights, amid which bridal wreath ferns and variegated blossoms were arranged, made a very beautiful picture indeed. At one end of the dining room a table was arranged where delicious fruit punch was dispensed by Miss Anna Goodman to the happy guests, the corner being beautifully decorated with white lilies and purple iris intermingled with ferns. During the afternoon Miss Viola Yorba rendered two pretty love songs and the strains of music were heard coming in from outside where Miss Viola had been placed. Various games suggestive of the occasion were enjoyed, one of which was the dressing of a bride, the foundation of which were old-fashioned clothes pins, and lavender and pink tissue paper was used to costume them, the efforts of the guests creating much merriment.

Miss Budway secured the first prize, Mrs. C. Redman receiving the consolation. The game of Hearts was also played, prizes being won by Mrs. Charles Rudelt and Mrs. C. Redman. Delicious refreshments were served by the gracious hostess, consisting of ice cream, cakes and coffee. She was assisted during the afternoon by Mrs. Harry Sohner, Mrs. Chas. Durkin, Mrs. Ed Burlingham, Miss Marie Rigali and Miss Anna Goodwin. The affair was certainly enjoyed by about fifty guests, who with one accord extended the happy bride their very best wishes. She also received many beautiful gifts, all happy reminders of the delightful occasion.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Casa Verdugo M. E. church were entertained by Mrs. R. D. Jones of 908 Dryden St. on Thursday evening. There was an attendance of thirty and the regular business meeting was held first with Mrs. D. A. Watt, president, retiring. Reports of the society were read. Also letters from the Pasadena district were read, congratulating the society on their work along missionary lines.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. Van Vleck Eddings, a returned missionary from Caracas, South America, who spoke on the conditions of the lower classes among the people there, and the wonderful work accomplished by the Hebron school for native missionaries.

Mrs. Van Vleck Eddings gave two appropriate readings during the evening and Mrs. C. H. Cunningham and Mrs. G. C. Eddings sang a duet. Mrs. Cunningham also sang a solo and Dr. Julius Soper gave an interesting talk of the conditions of the Japanese in Los Angeles. Dr. Soper is recognized as a leader in Japanese missionary work.

After the program delicious refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake, were served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Miss Nan Brown, and a social hour followed to meet Mr. and Mrs. Eddings, who leave Monday for their new field of labor in Mogollon, New Mexico, under the auspices of the Presbyterian mission board.

Master Bennie Marsh of 1645 Ruth street is having lots of fun these days trying out his Pendleton cycle car won in the Los Angeles Herald contest and is the envy of the many boys in the neighborhood. His generous promises of giving them all a ride is being made good and he is certainly a popular lad.

Mrs. J. W. Scott of South Hope

UNANSWERABLE

"It seems to me," writes Miss Nellie Swarts, secretary of the Consumers' league of New York City, "that the state should know what is a living wage for women."

The wisdom of Solomon would not enable any one to reach a final conclusion in such a matter.

What is one woman's meat is another's poison. A shop girl recently testified before an august and asinine solemn body of wrinkled-browed investigators that it was a simple matter to live on $6 a week. All one has to do, according to this young optimist, is to eat less if you would dress better and dress less if you would eat more, and there you are!

It is an easy matter to produce another witness who will swear that no girl can be honest upon less than blank dollars a week—the amount fixed by the witness according to her standards of living, and the opinion based upon emancipation from all standards of morality.

A washerwoman died a few days ago and left to a boy who had been kind enough to run errands for her a hoard of $1500 and a little house, which represented her savings. She had never earned, perhaps, what many a cocksure witness would testify, and many a ponderous investigating committee would agree, is the smallest sum that could be called living wages. A young woman, no better born, but with a penchant for fine feathers, commits suicide because an error of judgment led her to a life of vice as an improvement upon a salary of $10 a week. Experience taught her that she had deserted a certain living for a miserable adventure.

Let any one who would find out what constitutes living wages first solve the riddle of the Sphinx, find the bag of gold at the end of the rainbow, count the stars in a tropical sky, reduce to written notes the music of childhood's laughter, and inform the jury whether the accused was drunk at the time of the crime or merely had been drinking.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Every city in California that has beautified itself extensively should hold fast to the beauty it has attained and should supplement this beautification, whenever possible. With all that nature, in the wild, has done to give beauty and grandeur to this state, its people may so add to this ensemble as to give California recognized preeminence for beauty among all the picturesque regions of the earth. This state can duplicate the Alps, the Rhine, the sunny hills and plains of France, Italy and Greece and the most fruitful vales of the old world. If the man-made features of this state are kept up to the picturesque standard Nature has set, there can be no peer of California anywhere for variety of scenic effects.

LEST WE FORGET

Just fifty years ago today General Robert E. Lee surrendered to General U. S. Grant and the Civil War ended. We have many veterans here in Southern California, both of the blue and gray. When the war ended so did our enmity and today we love each other as brothers, so let us unfurl Old Glory to the breeze today, as the proudest emblem that floats on land and sea and thank God that we have peace in this our beloved land for half a century.

MOTOR TO IMPERIAL

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Downs of 720 Belmont street, with Mr. Downs' father, Mr. G. L. Keller of Iowa, Miss Coons and Dr. Chadwick, both of Los Angeles, have just returned from a delightful trip to Imperial valley, taken in Mr. Downs' automobile.

The party left Los Angeles Tuesday morning, going to National City that day, where they stayed over night, and started early the next morning for Imperial valley, stopping at El Centro, Brawley, Imperial City and Calipatria. The trip from San Diego to the valley, over the high mountains, was one never to be forgotten, with good roads and plenty of scenery. Returning to San Diego the next day, they stayed over night and spent the next day at the exposition, leaving in the evening for Oceanside, where the night was passed, and an early start was made next morning for Los Angeles. One feature of the trip was that the last forty miles into San Diego from Imperial was through a dense fog, making it very difficult to keep the road; otherwise the trip was almost without flaw and the roads in excellent condition practically all the way.

ACCIDENT FOLLOWS DINNER PARTY

On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Meeker of 300 E. Colorado street entertained Mrs. G. Ray Bennett of Los Angeles and Mr. Requea of San Diego at dinner. Mr. Requea is a well-known architect of the southern city and had charge of a great deal of the architectural work of the exposition.

It was Mrs. Meeker's birthday and a pleasant time was enjoyed by all. After dinner, however, Warren, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Meeker, in trying to crank the automobile to put it in the garage, fractured both bones of his right arm. The bones were set and the boy is resting easy this morning, and does not expect to experience any ill effects from his accident other than the pain and inconvenience while the bones are healing.

A LOS ANGELES COMPOSER'S NUMBER

The Robbinette club will sing "Come Dance and Sing," a three-part song by Frieda Peycke, the Los Angeles composer, who has endeared herself to the public by her clever songs, at their concert Tuesday evening. Some of the members of the Robbinette club had the pleasure of meeting Miss Peycke at the Dominant club tea.

Another attractive number on the program will be the negro Serenade, "Wait Miss Lindy" by Warner. But the Minnet number, followed by the dance by Lois Naudain and Dorothy McGinnis, will no doubt prove one of the most delightful numbers.

VINING-FENTON WEDDING

The many friends of Mrs. Amanda Fenton will be surprised to learn of her marriage April 3 to Mr. Wm. Vining. Mrs. Fenton is a sister of W. A. and F. B. Amend of Los Angeles, and is well known in and around Glendale, having been a resident of Verdugo canyon for seventeen years. Mr. Vining is a native of Ohio and a former resident of Nevada. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hopping of La Crescenta at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Vining left for San Diego immediately after the ceremony.

METHODIST GOSPEL TEAM

Thirty-four members of the Gospel Team of the First Methodist church went over to Lamanda Park Thursday evening and held a fine meeting. At the close of the service there were four conversions and the men of the Lamanda Park church decided to organize a gospel team themselves. Thus does the leaven work, and Rev. Johnson is justly proud of his team and of the good they have already done.

To do so you would be done by is the measuring stick that never turns up short.

A keen desire to be square and right and reasonable is a mighty factor toward keeping a fellow on the right track.

FISHING PARTY

A party, consisting of Rev. Bede A. Johnson, Mr. George Claver, Mr. William Claver and Randolph Tracy Claver, left here Monday afternoon for a fishing trip on the big Sespee. They returned Wednesday evening, bringing many fish and enthusiastic over the fine time they had enjoyed in the mountains. Mr. Johnson says they caught all the fish they could eat, as well as all they could bring home.

THE LADY AND THE FEATHER

The crime of smuggling the aigrette continues, and being a crime, the wearing of this trophy, the sign and symbol of an atrocious cruelty, cannot be characterized in milder terms. Therefore it might be wished that the gentle lady would cease to wear it. Thus would she no longer be guilty of offending, but she would preserve the hardened hunter from the brutality of tearing from its breast the mating plume of the heron. The process of obtaining the aigrette is not pleasing. If the mother bird is killed outright a brood is left to starve, and this is bad enough. There is, however, a belief or superstition that the feather reaches market in a better condition if torn from the living bird. After this has been done, the bird is left to die miserably of its wounds. If the wearers of aigrettes were to think about these things the chances are they would wear something else. The Indian, brave and gallant in his feathers, at least strove to have a bonnet made from the plumage of birds of prey. He usually selected the eagle as something worthy of his prowess and skill. He did not kill pretty harmless creatures to bedeck himself. Civilization is not on the Indian plane. It is civilization that demands the forests and fields be stripped of their living beauty, and the melody of the meadow and the sky silenced. All for the sake of a gewgaw. There is no bird that flies, of song so sweet as to save it, provided it have so much as one brilliant feather in the tip of its wing. The harbinger of spring, the flitting musician of the summer time, the blithe wild singer that stays through fall and winter, all look alike to the milliner. Has it beauty? Kill it, and stick the carcass on a hat. One would think that this lust for color might spare the tiny hummer. It doesn't. Extinction awaits all. And the hat they adorn as apt to be a fright as a thing of comeliness at that.

THE GREATEST GEOLOGIST

The royal name in geology is undoubtedly that of Charles Lyell. It was Lyell who did for geology what Copernicus did for the heavens and Darwin for the realm of biology—gave it true rendering by finding out and stating its true laws. Before Lyell's time geology was largely romance, but in "The Principles of Geology," published in 1830, the old catastrophic view of the formation of the earth heard its deathknell, and from the publication of that great work we are to date the birth of real geology.—Exchange.

SILENCE IS BEST

When you stop to reply to a blundering blusterer you lower yourself in the eyes of all. Silence is the best answer to those who are seeking to attract attention to themselves by bluster.

Being busy is good for the animal—rest and rust do "bust."
